

RECREATIONAL AVIATION AUSTRALIA INC

Use of your personal information respecting your privacy

Why do we collect your personal information

Recreational Aviation Australia is aware of the importance of your privacy. As such Recreational Aviation Aust. treats your personal information (for example your name, address, etc) in accordance with the laws relating to privacy. Information provided by you on applications forms and any other information we may have about you during your membership is collected for the following reasons:

- To generally administer your membership account
- To help with the many tasks such as licensing and other administration in relation to you account
- It enables us to contact you in the case of matters relating to safety issues, updates on membership services, and products or other things we may consider you may be interested in

All information provided by you on these forms goes direct to our office and is not passed out to any other party. The information is placed on to computer and the hard copy of your file is locked in the office. Only staff have access to the information provided.

On occasion the office, for safety reasons may need to provide some of your personal information and will provide information to AUSSAR, for the purposes of search and rescue. We may also be required by law to provide the information as circumstances or legislation requires. We can be required by law under an Order, to provide information to family law courts and drug enforcement agencies as well as other government bodies, for the purpose of assisting them in inquires should the need ever arise.

If you are interested in more information relating to the privacy statement of Recreational Aviation Aust. please call the Recreational Aviation Aust. administration at the above number and speak to the staff who can assist you. You can also obtain information from the website at: www.raa.asn.au

Always remember you can gain access to your file in accordance with the Privacy Act of 1988 (Commonwealth) and can have it corrected or amended as required. Also appreciate that the information provided for your file did come directly from you or at least have your authorising signature to it. It is quite possible that the office may contact you by telephone or other means in order to verify information supplied.

Please indicate below if you are happy for your contact details to be issued to other members who request details of members with similar interests and return to the Office. If the office does not receive a response it will be presumed that you DO NOT wish your details to be available to Recreational Aviation Aust. Members. No personal/contact information will be printed or provided to external bodies other than those outlined above.

YES, my contact details may be made available to Recreational Aviation Aust. members.

NO, my contact details may NOT be made available to Recreational Aviation Aust. members.

Name:

Membership Number:

RECREATIONAL AVIATION AUSTRALIA INC

Use of your personal information respecting your privacy

Why do we collect your personal information

Recreational Aviation Australia is aware of the importance of your privacy. As such Recreational Aviation Aust. treats your personal information (for example your name, address, etc) in accordance with the laws relating to privacy. Information provided by you on applications forms and any other information we may have about you during your membership is collected for the following reasons:

- To generally administer your membership account
- To help with the many tasks such as licensing and other administration in relation to you account
- It enables us to contact you in the case of matters relating to safety issues, updates on membership services, and products or other things we may consider you may be interested in

All information provided by you on these forms goes direct to our office and is not passed out to any other party. The information is placed on to computer and the hard copy of your file is locked in the office. Only staff have access to the information provided.

On occasion the office, for safety reasons may need to provide some of your personal information and will provide information to AUSSAR, for the purposes of search and rescue. We may also be required by law to provide the information as circumstances or legislation requires. We can be required by law under an Order, to provide information to family law courts and drug enforcement agencies as well as other government bodies, for the purpose of assisting them in inquires should the need ever arise.

If you are interested in more information relating to the privacy statement of Recreational Aviation Aust. please call the Recreational Aviation Aust. administration at the above number and speak to the staff who can assist you. You can also obtain information from the website at: www.raa.asn.au

Always remember you can gain access to your file in accordance with the Privacy Act of 1988 (Commonwealth) and can have it corrected or amended as required. Also appreciate that the information provided for your file did come directly from you or at least have your authorising signature to it. It is quite possible that the office may contact you by telephone or other means in order to verify information supplied.

Please indicate below if you are happy for your contact details to be issued to other members who request details of members with similar interests and return to the Office. If the office does not receive a response it will be presumed that you DO NOT wish your details to be available to Recreational Aviation Aust. Members. No personal/contact information will be printed or provided to external bodies other than those outlined above.

YES, my contact details may be made available to Recreational Aviation Aust. members.

NO, my contact details may NOT be made available to Recreational Aviation Aust. members.

Name:

Membership Number: